

ASTEROID ANDERSON FLOYD

They're bullies, those boulders that fly through the void.
They're easily angered, irked, and annoyed.
Bump into one and you will be destroyed—
unless you meet Anderson Floyd.

Asteroid Anderson Floyd's so polite, he'll go out of his way to make room for your flight.
He minds his manners and does what's right,
that gold-hearted nugget named Floyd.

He's the friendliest rock on the outer space block
and although he's too bashful to stop and talk, I'm always glad, when I'm out on a walk,
to see Asteroid Anderson Floyd.

Don't worry, his motto is "Floyd Will Avoid!"
'cause a crash is something he's never enjoyed.
Go on, head toward him, you won't be destroyed—
but make darn sure it's Anderson Floyd!
